

Great prizes for travelers with tots in the Passports with Purpose fundraiser

"Passports with Purpose" kicks off this week with great prizes for travelers of all persuasions, including those with babies and toddlers. The travelblogger-driven fundraiser benefits Heifer International, the organization that promotes self-reliance for families in the U.S. and around the world through gifts of livestock and training. As one of the participating bloggers, I am very excited to be contributing three great prizes I know parent travelers with babies and toddlers can appreciate—each of which I also recommend in Travels with Baby.

Just look what your $10 tax-deductible raffle ticket could win you:

PRIZE 2: CARES, the FAA-approved child aviation restraint

CARES (a.k.a. the flight safety harness) converts the airplane seatbelt into a 4-point harness for children 1 year (22 lbs.) and older. Winner of the 2008 Good Housekeeping Good Buy Awards.
