American Airlines Offers Family-Friendly Tips for Independence Day Travel

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 30 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Millions of families will take to the sky in search of great firework displays on this holiday weekend. Whether you're hitting the beach, going to the city or heading for the mountains, American Airlines, a founding member of the global oneworld(R) Alliance, wants to help make this July Fourth holiday memorable by offering some tips with the family in mind.

Before Traveling...

- Consider purchasing a lightweight child-restraint system rather than lugging a bulky car seat through security. The system is easily transportable, and fits almost all American and American Eagle seats. See www.aa.com/children for more information.
